

Saturday 25th November, 2023

10:00 - 14:15

Institut français du Royaume-Uni
17 Queensberry Place, London

We have invited some of the best presenters and trainers in the country to offer a rich variety of engaging workshops that will meet teachers' classroom needs from Key Stage 2 to Key Stage 5, and boost French teaching skills with fresh ideas for a successful academic year!

A special focus will be given to resources and activities related to sports on the occasion of Paris 2024 Olympic Games!

Programme

10:00 - 10:15 Registration, coffee and croissants

10:15 - 10:30 Welcome address by the Institut français du Royaume-Uni and

10:30 - 11:00 French Teacher Award Ceremony

11:00 - 11:45 Workshop 1 : Decolonising learning : The elastic band method

11:45 - 12:30 Workshop 2 : Two ready to use  resources to talk about sports in French

12:30 - 13:00 Lunch break offered by the Institut français du Royaume-Uni at

13:30 - 14:15 Workshop 3 : Bring Paris-2024 Olympic Games to your class

OLYMP'KIT
DOSSIER PÉDAGOGIQUE SUR
LES JEUX OLYMPIQUES 2024

Meet our trainers

Decolonising learning : The elastic band method

Maud WARET

Mfl And Humanities Teacher

Since 2020, Maud has been focusing on how to eradicate racism in schools. In an effort to offer decolonised language teaching, she has devised a method in order to construct a new pedagogy: the Elastic band method. This method allows teachers to prepare lessons that will link and stretch our understanding of what a universal and humanist education should be. This pragmatic, ready-to use perspective is aimed at teachers who are confronted to racism in their daily practice.

Ready to use TV5 Monde resources to talk about sport in French

Marianne SKINNER

Teacher, Lecturer and teacher trainer

Marianne is a highly experienced practitioner with a demonstrated history of working in the secondary, post-secondary and HE sector. Skilled in teaching French and English as a Foreign Language, teacher training, lecturing, Second Language Acquisition and pedagogy, Marianne is also an accredited TV5Monde teacher trainer.

Bring Paris-2024 Olympic Games to your class

Romain Devaux

Attaché for French Language, Institut français du Royaume-Uni

Romain has been working passionately to promote French language and culture for the last 12 years. As French Language Attaché at the Institut français du Royaume-Uni since 2021, he has been creating initiatives, programmes and sharing resources to support the teaching of French language all across the country.

LA FIPF

Fédération Internationale des Professeurs de Français

With the support of

