

Call for nominations

The French Teacher Award is a national prize created in 2022 which recognises remarkable success of French language teachers, highlights, honours, and thanks their hard work and commitment to encourage the teaching of French in primary and secondary schools in the United Kingdom.

Every year, one teacher of French in a primary and/or secondary school will be selected for his/her significant and committed contribution to French language instruction in his/her school and community. The winner will be selected by a national jury which will pay attention to:

- the participants' record of successful teaching at a school, including innovative language teaching and cross curricular activities,
- the participants' successful introduction of French teaching at a school (e.g., first foreign language or new language),
- the participants' initiatives to promote good progress and love of learning French.

How to register:

- 1) Complete the application form.
- 2) Have your form completed, signed and stamped by your headteacher.
- 3) Send the form to this address: projects-education@institut-francais.org.uk by Thursday 31st October 2024.

The 2023 nominee will be announced during the French Teachers' Day celebrations at the Institut français du Royaume-Uni in London on Saturday 23rd November 2024.

Special prizes include a £250 voucher and tablets generously offered by TV5Monde.

You have been teaching French for several years and you think your hard work and efforts to promote the love of the language should be recognised?

Or, you have noticed the quality of the teaching and strong efforts of one of your French-language colleagues and think his/her great work should be valued?
